

IT Architecture Easily Merges Years of Data and Connects Remote Team for the First Time Using BQE CORE

iT Architecture Executive Administrator, Alexis Webb, has always recognized the importance of embracing technology to increase efficiency and profitability. Because of this, she was constantly on the lookout for the smartest way to optimize her work.

Her firm's manual process involved cluttered spreadsheets that greatly slowed everything down due to the learning curve and constantly fixing user errors. Webb tried other point solution software to address these issues but found their lack of harmony with each other resulted in more lost time.

When she learned about BQE CORE's cloud business management platform, she knew it addressed her company's current pain points and couldn't wait to try it.

Easy to Implement, Great Customer Support

Webb and the team at iT Architecture were excited to implement BQE CORE's project management, time and expense tracking, and billing modules. After years of tedious processes, BQE CORE looked like it would be the solution to their problems, however, like with all new software, Webb was concerned that it would take time to get to know the platform and with her busy schedule, extra time was something she couldn't afford.

BQE always has an answer

Luckily, BQE CORE made this easy from the get-go. The BQE team walked Webb and her firm through the processes, making sure they knew how to get the most out of every feature. Their years of data was seamlessly transferred through BQE's implementation service so nothing was lost and they didn't have to spend a single minute of their own time organizing data. BQE CORE made it so that they knew how to easily operate the platform right away and once they were in, all of their data was there ready for them to get started.

When questions do arise, Webb can rely on BQE Software's award-winning customer support, noting, "BQE always has an answer."

Working Remotely Through Cloud

Webb considers BQE CORE to be "a true step-up" from her company's previous software solutions such as Excel plus QuickBooks, Harvest for time tracking, and their brief attempt to navigate Deltek Ajera.

Aside from the excellent customer support and easy-to-learn features, Webb and her team were most impressed by BQE CORE's cloud platform and robust analytics.

"The fact that you can access BQE CORE from anywhere is huge," Webb stresses, especially for when employees are on the go.

Being on the cloud means that updates—and data back-ups—are automatic, while new features are frequently being rolled out. With BQE CORE's intuitive mobile app, Webb can accomplish anything she needs to do in the office no matter where she's located.

Customizable Dashboards

After years of very one-noted manual processes and complicated software, Webb loved all the abilities she now has to track estimates and budgets with BQE CORE's customizable dashboards and reports.

She can track budgeted costs and hours versus actual in real-time, giving her team the clear picture of profitability needed to make quick decisions.

Webb praises BQE Software's attention to detail when it comes to design. "There are all these little functions that you don't have in other tools," she notes. "You can upload your submittals, everything can be tagged, and its search features let you find exactly what you want."
